

ABOUT A PASSPORT AFFAIR

SOMEWHAT SOPHISTICATED TRAVEL FOR THE CULTURALLY CURIOUS

A Passport Affair is a website for independent travelers looking for information and tips about slow travel, regional cuisine and authentic experiences throughout Europe and beyond. Our posts feature solo, couple and multigenerational travel with in-laws, outlaws, children, grandparents and friends, ages 8-84.

A Passport Affair finds activities, local partnerships, unusual places to stay or interesting modes of travel that add layers of cultural interest to the usual European itinerary. Our goal is to ensure our readers return home with memories and pictures you simply won't find on a gift shop postcard.

ABOUT MEGAN

TRAVELER. TRAVEL WRITER. GIN COCKTAIL ENTHUSIAST.

I am an American expat in London, but I've led a semi-nomadic existence for the past 30 years. Before London, I moved with my 3 children and husband to various locations around the world, courtesy of the US Submarine Service. Our life of moving boxes and mayhem stayed with our family after our military life ended. Our three children live their own expat lives around the world. The Mister traded the Navy life for corporate life in London and I traded life as a teacher for something less defined.

A Passport Affair was launched as the wheels left the tarmac on a sunny, spring afternoon in 2012. It started as a way to keep in touch with friends and family around the world and quickly grew into a popular and well-regarded travel website.

WORK WITH ME

I am excited about, and interested in, creating partnerships with companies, individuals, and destinations who share a vision for exceptional travel experiences in Europe and beyond.

I only write about properties, places and activities I personally experience. I am happy to engage, partner and endorse brands I use and love. Feel free to contact me if you feel A Passport Affair is a good match for your travel-related product or service.
